What Can Project Leaders Do?

A question was brought up concerning what a project leader can do with a project member who is not abiding by the 4-H Code of Conduct.

On the 4-H Code of Conduct form, which the member and parent have signed, are the penalties and/or disciplinary actions for infractions of the 4-H Code of Conduct:

- ◆ Sending a participant home
- ◆ Barring that participant from future 4-H events including fairs
- ◆ Assessing the participant the cost of damages and repairs in the event of damage/destruction of property
- ◆ Releasing the member to the nearest law enforcement agency or the proper authorities
- ◆ Termination of 4-H membership (youth or adult)

Parents and Community Club Leader will be notified of action taken.

To the Adults

By Dr. Jeff Goodwin, 4-H & Youth Specialist,
University of Idaho

The following poem was not written to be harmful to the youth livestock program but to simply do as the 4-H motto says, "To Make the Best Better".

Oh they moan and they groan
As the light is shone
On youth livestock shows grand.
They say, "Speak only of the positive never of negative,"
As they put their small heads in the sand.

They say it's for the kids
As they pray for high bids
To help pay the college bill.
The need for prestige and adult egos in heave are the root of most stock show ills.

The animals are fine-tuned
Like a ship to the moon;
Feed, water, and concoctions metered just right.
And when the thought of Average Daily Gain
Causes us such great pain,
Can't it be seen that we may have lost sight.

The fitter for hire
Should raise your ire
As 4-H and FFA members are robbed of their own work.

And the thought of a rule
That puts in young hands the grooming tools
Makes some parents go plumb berserk.

If your sails are not set
You can sure bet
Your destination will be as the wind blows.
It's up to us,
Despite the loud fuss,
To give direction to where this good program will go.

Do we aim for lean gain,
Production, quality, efficiency, and other industry standards?

Or go in the direction of unlawful injections,
While to tradition and local power we pander?

When we're off on a tangent,
And we think like bandits, the stock show just might be off track.
If the true goal
Is to increase the good citizen roles, then it's time to take the program back.

Don't get me wrong,
Stock shows are still strong
Builders of young men and young women,
But if we don't put up a fight and do what's right,
with the sharks we'll soon be swimming.

The things that we do
Must always be true
And on a sound, thinking basis.
Because all that's at stake
Are futures and fates;
And looking to us are all those young faces
